

Best Spousal-Owned Electrical & Building Experts - London

With electricity playing such an important role in our lives, it pays to find an expert in the field who can provide the highest quality of installation. The team behind SheaWorks Ltd have proven themselves over the years to offer this level of service at all times. Recognised in SME News' Family Business Awards 2022, we thought it right to dig a little deeper into the secrets of their success.

For many years, SheaWorks has been the vendor of choice for many throughout London. Whether it's an installation job prepared in advance or an emergency that nobody could have foreseen, their work has gained a reputation for excellence that sets them apart from the competition.

Whether it's an installation job prepared in advance or an emergency that nobody could have foreseen, their work has gained a reputation for excellence that sets them apart from the competition.

SheaWorks prides itself on being a company which can be relied upon to deliver. Quality is the team's watchword in every respect. Above and beyond the incredible skill they are able to utilise on numerous projects, the team also make sure that only the best material from trusted suppliers are used. This means that every aspect of the project is consistent, guaranteeing a superior finish that might not be found through other vendors. Working with the team from SheaWorks gives an electrical solution which will effortlessly stand the test of time.

Timing is another aspect which is vital to the success of the team from SheaWorks. This small, but ambitious, operation understands the vital nature of electrical installation and the need to resolve any issues as swiftly as possible. Business owners, landlords, estate agents and property owners throughout London have come to trust this talented team to provide the rapid turnarounds that they need to keep the trust of their clients.

Over the years, SheaWorks has undertaken projects both serving commercial clients and domestic ones. In commercial situations, having electrical systems that work safely, efficiently and effectively is imperative and covers specialist areas such as telephone systems, lighting, CCTV, computers and fire alarms. The services offered by the team vary enormously, in order to meet the unique needs of individual customers. When a client engages the SheaWorks team, they engage with someone who is willing and able to put the requirements of the business above all else.

For domestic customers too, a team of NICEIC approved electricians are able to support the various needs of this market. The high level of expertise that underpins every decision made and every service offered. Not only do the team provide an approach to electrical engineering which is carefully adapted to the specific situation of their clients, they offer this alongside a friendly service that is always competitively priced. For those who want to stay ahead of the curve, there are none finer.

Perhaps the biggest sign of success for the team is their emergency electrical callout service. This brings together all the skill and knowledge from every part of the team's immense experience to battle the unknown. This 24 hour service is available seven days a week, ensuring that no matter what happens, even the very worst, you can be back on your feet as soon as possible. A host of leading electricians from across London can help if you're based in Islington, Sutton, Camden or anywhere else in the locality. Needless to say, this service is one of the most prized by SheaWorks customers.

Being family based means being able to offer a personalised service at all times. The SheaWorks team knows the needs of their customers and adapts accordingly to serve them. Their work deserves to be celebrated, and we can't wait to see what they do next!
